“ I will miss my friend Vicki, she loved my daughter Sherry as her own as I did her son Mark..she like to say "if he did anything to upset Sherry" she would take Sherry's side..the 3 of them would go to ballgames and take her to the Bull Riding...yes Bull Riding!. She loved it..She and I enjoyed movies and going to lunch and farmers market..she planted a garden and had the most wonderful fresh green beans... She had a good heart and wanted to help whenever she could.. I wish she could have gotten to do more..she always talked about how she and Daniel didn't get to travel as they had planned..rest in peace my friend.

“ I thank Vicki for all she did through all the years with and for my brother Daniel. Vicki was always a wonderful mother to her son Mark, always a person with a good heart and I am glad we are family and always will be for eternity. So here are a few words dedicated to you. Vicki was always a virtuous woman, who breathed the sweet influence of virtue into the hearts and lives of her friends and family, she was the angel of goodness in the world. She was the pillar of the external kingdom of right. Vicki was the star, shining in moral firmament. She was priestess, administering at the fountain of life. Every prayer she breathed was answered, in a greater or less degree, in the hearts and lives of those she loved. Her heart was an altar-fire, where religion acquires strength to go out on it's mission of mercy. Thank you again, for all you did and the lives you touched. Your Eternal Friend, David A. Young “ Vicki was a sassy, fun loving lady who raised a great son! Mark shared a memory of a lesson she taught him about matches... he was caught playing with them and as punishment she made him strike an entire box. He said he NEVER wanted to play with matches again Fly high sweet lady!
